Walking the path of Christ with love and service through a Catholic Education.

Class Notes...

Thank you for all the birthday wishes! We had quite a celebratory day-our leprechaun snuck into our room and left us some birthday cookies, as well as the birthday treat from the class. We enjoyed the treats!

Please ask you child if new supplies are needed. You'll see worn out marker on many assignments this week. Many markers and possibly glue sticks are needed.

You'll also notice some book reports in the folders. We've been learning how to write them. Students can work on their own to earn some rewards. Please help me in remaining them that they need to read the entire book before writing a report. We are all works in progress:)

The Bunny Brunch is this weekend. I hope to see some of you there!
