Walking the path of Christ with love and service through a Catholic Education.

Class Notes...

So many good things are going on in first grade! Over the past week, I've heard, "This is the best day ever!" from many students.

Graded Math tests are in the folders. I was very happy with how well our skills are coming along. The same goes for Reading.

We've started using the iPads to read on the Epic app. Students are able to choose books to read or to have book read to them. I am also able to assign stories for them to read, as time goes on. If you are interested in purchasing this app for home, go to www.getepic.com for more information.

Next week, I will not be sending a class newsletter. However, we will be having a Reading assembly on Wednesday, Nov. 29. We would like all students to bring a small stuffed animal and a beach/bath towel on that day. The stuffy must fit in a backpack.

Also: Looking for Christmas gifts for your children or yourself? There is a new Shepherd crewneck sweatshirt order form and a new online link to our Shepherd spirit wear store in today's school newsletter. Crewneck orders and payments are due on November 27 and the online spirit wear store closes on November 25 in order to get everything delivered by Christmas break. Order yours today!

Please check the school newsletter for more information.
