

First Grade News

Walking the path of Christ with love and service through a Catholic Education.

Class Notes...

November already! Just a few weeks until Thanksgiving break. We have been busy, yet again. There have been so many assemblies and special programs....it's time to get back to "normal."

Next Friday, we will be honoring our Veterans. Students may wear red, white and blue.

We know that winter is on the way. Snow gear will be sent home every Friday to be cleaned. If you would like anything sent home during the week, please let me know.

Over the next few months, we will be doing many projects involving empty paper towel rolls. Please send any that you may have.

Also, we go through quite a few plastic shopping bags, especially in the winter. Please send any extras you may have. Thank you!

Please check the school newsletter for more information.
