Walking the path of Christ with love and service through a Catholic Education.

Class Notes...

What a week it has been! Grandparents Day was wonderful! We also had a really great time on our field trip to the Schauer Center. Be sure to ask your child about it:)

The MAP testing went well. You will receive your child's results before conferences next week. Please jot down any questions/concerns you may have and bring them with you next week. To note: When you check your child's grades in Power School, there are very few to see. This is the time of year where I start assessing more of their new skills which will be added on to the report card grades for term 1.

Please check the folders for information on an upcoming Pumpkin Day on October 27.

Finally, I've changed up the format here, so that you can enjoy more pictures of the kids on the next page.
